

Data encryption

You are in a secure site. Masaltos.com is the owner of a digital certificate issued by Thawte certification authority. This certificate confirms that we are who we say we are. Masaltos.com encrypts the information sent to and received from our web server and protects information from being tampered with.

In other words, all data you send us in any of the various forms arranged in Masaltos.com, including the order to purchase online will be encrypted to be illegible in the case of interception. You can also be sure of the existence and activity of our company.

You can check the SSL certificate in the lock icon placed at the status bar of the browser window, in the address bar of the web site where you will see https:// instead of http://, and through Thawte seal.
